Dear families of Green Bay School

As you may have heard, the Prime Minister of New Zealand has announced that all schools will be closed from tomorrow, Tuesday 24 March (except for the children of essential workers such as our doctors, nurses, ambulance drivers, police, and people who work in the food supply chain) – this will give them time to plan. This will be temporary, and schools will close entirely on Wednesday 25 March.

If your child is from one of the above-named essential worker families and they will be coming to school tomorrow, they are expected to arrive at the usual school start time of between 8.30am-8.50am and they are to wait at the 'friendship table', outside Mr Muthoo's office.

We are currently uploading work for your children on our school website – www.greenbay.school.nz and some work will be emailed to you by the classroom teacher.

More information to follow as soon as it becomes available.

Take care. Look after yourselves. Spend quality family time together and keep our children safe.
